10-HOUR OSHA COMPLIANCE COURSE

June 26–27, 2019 • TEC Georgetown Training Facility, 100 Cooperative Way, Georgetown 78681

COURSE INFORMATION

Course Description

This course covers OSHA policies, procedures and standards as well as general industry safety and health principles. Participants have the opportunity to ask questions about the OSHA standard and receive safety instruction on safety and health. Upon completion the course the participants will receive a certificate of completion from the Federal OSHA institute.

Objectives

- Describe OSHA processes, violations and procedure for dealing with accidents, illnesses and complaints
- Reduce OSHA recordkeeping handling time while still meeting requirements
- Develop more effective training programs, gain employee and management buy-in, and meet OSHA's complex training requirements
- Use proactive safety audit tools to reduce—or possibly eliminate—accidents and injuries in the workplace
- Assess your organization's level of compliance and shore up areas of weakness.
- Save money by cutting accident-associated costs, such as insurance premiums, workers' compensation, time off and more
- Alert your organization to proposed OSHA changes so you can take them into account when planning for future growth
- Identify resources for up-to-the-minute information on OSHA rules and regulations
- Describe the procedure for an OSHA inspection
